8 Megabits

Here comes a 3D shooter where you must use both the left and right control pads to intercept missiles which come flying towards the city that is spread out along the gulf coast below. One of your tasks is to sink a huge battleship that appears once every three stages. Later awaits the final stage, where you must destroy a super-huge battleship to lead your army to victory!

ENEMY MISSILES APPROACHING!

The game is over when either the city is destroyed or all of the missiles are intercepted.

If you don't use both the left and right control pads, it's not possible to clear the game.
